Figure 9: August 29 2021, cruise T221 (T121 on paper tag, the cruise number in Oracle is different than what was used during the cruise), stratum 415, set 10, depth 295.5m

2019

2018

2017

Figure 19: September 2017, cruise T777, captured during trial set using the NEST trawl. Set 902 is not in the Oracle database, need to check further with data manager. From personal recollection, these sets were conducted in the Northumberland Strait, most likely in stratum 402 or 432.

2016
